Dear Irv:

As a sometimes teacher, I have to say that last Wednesday's session with "The Radio Priest" was a particularly useful and gratifying experience -- for me and for the graduate students in my seminar.

We are in your debt, Irv, for sharing your evening with us and for allowing the students the opportunity of a dialogue with one of the leading professionals in the field of documentary. I know from their comments how much they appreciate it.

I was especially pleased that you thought to include your wife in the session. It was a joy to meet her and to have a chance to talk with both of you about your experiences at Stanford. I hope I can return the favor one day.

Sincerely,

Jim
